For this section generally fair weather, slightly warmer, northerly winds, light rain Sunday.
ALLEGED SPECTRAL MANIFESTATIONS.
 There is weird talk among railroad engineers and firemen heretofore regarding the appearance of a ghost on the railroad track near St. Asaph Junction on several nights recently of what is regarded as a ghost, a brook, shade or spectre. It is said that on two or three occasions during the night time in the past few weeks, just as a fast passenger train would reach the junction, the form of a man could be seen on the track. The supposed human being would be so close to the engine that to stop time to prevent hitting him was impossible, but upon the train being brought to a standstill no evidence of anyone having been struck could be found. The superstitions among the railroad crews suggest that it is the shade of a man who was killed near that spot several months ago in the night time, and it "will not dawn." The reported apparition has caused some tremor among the nervous in the locality of St. Asaph Junction, and it is said that rumbling around that neighborhood in the "wee wee" hours is by no means as common as heretofore.

JUDGMENT AGAINST MIKULOWICZ.—J. Gamble, contractor, of New York, has secured a judgment for $710.96, money borrowed, interest and costs, against Count Eugene de Mikulowicz. When the Count's Oriental-American banking scheme was in its infancy Mr. Gamble became interested in the plan. The Count induced him, he says, to interest capitalists, and Mr. Gamble succeeded in agitating the financial instincts of several capitalists. It became necessary for the Count to make many journeys from Washington to New York, and it frequently happened, Mr. Gamble says, that the Count was short of money for the fare and for the entertainment of his "Colonial friends." In this emergency it was his custom to run hurriedly into Mr. Gamble's office and borrow. When Mr. Gamble and his friends decided to withdraw from any further consideration of the Count's scheme, after the advertising it got in the newspapers Mr. Gamble began looking around for his money. He couldn't find it, and so he applied to the court, and he forgot the judgment, which he does not esteem highly. The Count holds that Mr. Gamble owes him $10,000 for failing to do certain things which he had agreed to do.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—The Day of Atonement begins to-morrow, Sunday, evening, and continues till sundown on Monday. This is the most sacred day in the entire Jewish year, and during the 24 hours no drink or food of any kind, including water, is allowed to pass the lips of the faithful. Only the sick and children under the age of 13 are exempt from the conditions of this fast. Many of the prayers occurring in the Atonement service are used only on this day. They are divided into four parts—morning, afternoon, evening and concluding services. This latter ends with the confession of faith—the same as is read at the bedside of the dying. After this the Shofar or ram's horn is blown—a token that the atonement has been heard and all transgressions blotted out. The evening service is called the "Kol Nidre," from a prayer beginning with those two words, the recital of which is intended to relieve the suppliant from the execution of any rash vows he may have made during the past year.

OPERA HOUSE.—The explosion scene and tableau following it in the military play "Hermine," which will be at the Opera House next Monday night, is said to even excel the wonderful tableau in "Paul Kaurvar." It will be carefully staged here. The company will, after a tour of the principal southern cities, return to New York. As the piece is not new to New York this speaks volume for the merit of the attraction.

The New Haven Palladium says of Duncan Clark's combination which will appear here Tuesday night: "This is one of the few companies that always try to do what they can, and consequently have become prime favorites. Nothing old or worn out was introduced, while the fun was pure and wholesome. The costumes are gorgeous and the marches and drills are unexcelled."

PERSONAL.—General G. W. C. Lee is still confined to his house at Lexington by rheumatism. Telegrams from Ravensworth this evening state that Gen. W. H. F. Lee is not as well as he was yesterday, though the change in his condition is slight.

Dr. Bedford Brown has returned from Lynchburg where he went to attend the sessions of the Virginia Medical Society. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morris, of Chicago, are on a short visit to friends in this city—their former home.

THE MARKET to-day was fairly supplied with vegetables, &c., in season, but many of the summer fruits and vegetables are disappearing and their places are being taken by the harder fall varieties. Chestnuts, older quarters of sugar, &c., were also offered to-day and met with ready sale, showing that the prevailing cool weather is whetting the appetite for autumn fare. Prices are rather on the advance.

COUNTY COURT.—Judge D. M. Chichester presiding.—Continuation of yesterday's proceedings.—Com. vs. Robert Jackson; indicted for burning a dwelling in the night time; jury and verdict of guilty and penalty fixed at two years in the penitentiary. Court adjourned for the term.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION.—The Senate of Georgia yesterday effectively killed extreme railroad legislation in Georgia by defeating a bill known as the Borne bill, which passed the House last week. This bill was aimed at the West Point Terminal Company, and if passed would have involved the railroad in litigation. The effect of the introduction of this measure and consequent agitation has been a serious decline in the value of the securities of Georgia railroads. The friends of the Borne bill fought vigorously for its passage in the Senate, but it was killed by a vote of 20 to 15.

 Mayor Strauss this morning disposed of the following case:
 John Laws, colored, charged with assaulting and beating Sophronia Ferguson, also colored, was fined $5 or given 30 days in jail.

THE WAY THEY DO THEM IN MISSOURI.—Thomas T. Lyone, of Janesville, Miss., who has been preaching against the Catholic Church at St. Joseph, tried to make a speech on the sidewalk a day or two ago. Some one threw a stone which knocked him down. He arose with a revolver in his hand with which he threatened to shoot the next man who threw a stone. His threat was answered by a volley of stones, and he was chased four blocks by a mob yelling "Hang him!" He rushed through the Gazette office and escaped. The excitement was such that he found it advisable to leave town.

Four doctors gave me up saying I could not live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. At North Birmingham, Ala., last night some boys saturated a cat with coal oil, set fire to it and turned it loose. The cat ran into the residence of a man named Lindsey and set fire to the house, burning it to the ground. Another house was also burned.

A dispatch from Paris, Tex., says: A desperate attempt was made to hold up the south-bound passenger train on the Frisco road 100 miles north at 3 o'clock this morning. Several shots were fired. Conductor Carr knocked one of the robbers down with his lamp just as the man was preparing to fire with his pistol in the conductor's breast.
